To the people of God at Our Redeemer,

Changing over to a new year is a strange, yet familiar event. Each year, we struggle the first few times we sign our name and write out the date. Changing over to a new year immediately declares the past year to be "old". A few days ago, 2013 did not seem "old". What happened? How did the movement of a clock or the dropping of a ball in Times Square change our view of something as significant as a year?

Time is such an interesting part of our existence. It is something intangible. You have a past. You live in something called the present. And you look forward into an unknowable future.

Our past is unchangeable. Whatever has happened, has happened. Yet, our memories do change. As we put more and more time between the past and the present, our opinion of the past tends to wax nostalgic. We remember "the good ole days." I believe this phenomenon is partly due to the reality of forgiveness. We tend to look back at people we have known, especially our loved ones, and we "forget" about the faults and failures. This doesn't mean we have a loss of memory, but we tend to look past the failures and remember the good. Listen to how people speak of the deceased at a funeral. Difficult and challenging times become humorous stories later in life. (Please realize that I am speaking in broad generalizations and I am well aware that some events of life will never be viewed as good or humorous.)

Just as we look with increasing fondness upon the past, we tend to look with hope for the future. This is why we welcome and celebrate the coming of the New Year. Everyone looks to the New Year as a chance to start over. Why do we all desire to make resolutions and start over? Perhaps it is because we recognize that the present or immediate past won't be thought of as the "good ole days" for quite some time.

We want our years to be like our days as described by Luther in regard to Baptism: "The Old Adam in us should by daily contrition and repentance be drowned and die with all sins and evil desires, and that a new man should daily emerge and arise to live before God in righteousness and purity forever."

Under the grace of your Baptism, each day you arise as a "new man" – that is, you are forgiven, pure, innocent, and righteous in the eyes of God. You are reborn as His child. Yesterday is a memory where all the faults and failures are forgotten. Today is a new day with a great hope for the future.

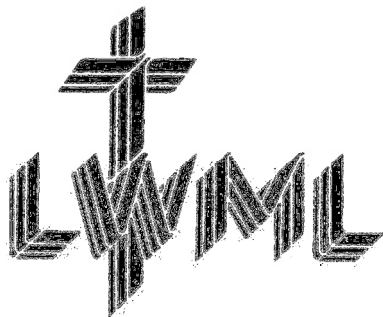

That is a wonderful approach to welcoming in this New Year. It will not become a reality by adhering to the demands of unrealistic resolutions. The Law only brings temporary change. We always figure out ways to break our resolutions.

Forgiveness for the past and hope for the future is a reality that only God brings. Throughout this year, every day remember your Baptism as you "emerge and arise to live before God in righteousness and purity forever."

In Christ,

Pastor Eden

LWML

December is closing with a 'busy'ness we are all too familiar with, but with a high level of excitement to go with it as we celebrate the birth of our Lord!

Many thanks to all the wonderful ladies who hosted tables for our 'Preparing Our Hearts for Advent' evening on Dec. 1st and to those who attended! We shared a beautiful evening of tasty desserts and fellowship along with Pastor Eden giving us cause to pause for reflection in this season of joy! The fun was capped off with a musical program provided by Karol Ehmen and her five lovely young ladies and Michele Clevenger.

Our annual Christmas party was December 6th with Kathy Hyer and Michele Clevenger hosting. Of course a meal was shared along with our exchange of 'white elephant' gifts that's always a hit! People can be so creative! A 'year in review' was shared and a collection for our seminary students taken.

Next up was our 'Holiday Treats' bake sale on Dec. 14th and 15th for last minute gift giving of the consumable kind! Again, thanks to all for your purchases and donations to help us out with our mission projects.

On December 18th, we hosted the Advent service dessert and you know how yummy that was with the offerings going to the Concordia Food Bank!

Lastly this past month, we made sure to visit our shut-in friends and gift them with a fun gift bag filled with goodies!

We can't thank you, the congregation, enough for your generous support throughout this year to help us in turn help out the many mission projects we funded. Please look for the special thank you to you in this newsletter! We couldn't have done so well without you!

A very Merry Christmas to you all and a blessed New Year!

Any of you ladies who are thinking you might like to be a part of our group; we hope to see you at a meeting soon to check us out! We are so blessed with the many gifts, talents and resources of all the ladies and we welcome you to join us in "serving the Lord with gladness"!
