Opening Thoughts:

August, 2014

As students of all ages head back to classes, we consider the importance of education. We spend billions to educate the children and youth of our nation. Thomas Jefferson wrote, "No government can continue good but under the control of the people; and ... their minds are to be informed by education what is right and what wrong; to be encouraged in habits of virtue and to be deterred from those of vice ... These are the inculcations necessary to render the people a sure basis for the structure and order of government," (Thomas Jefferson to John Adams, 1819). Today there is much disagreement about what children should be taught. This is because as a nation we cannot agree on what is right and what is wrong. Rev. Jim Wright, Immanuel - Altamont
